

October 6, 1965

Mr. Michael Minovich
International House
University of California
Berkeley 4, California

Mr. Maxwell W. Hunter II
Bellcomm Inc.
1100 17th St., N.W.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hunter:

I have had for some time now a technical memorandum which I think you might like to read. I have kept it because I wanted to send you the work as an external Laboratory publication. However, since it is not yet ready for publication, I thought you might appreciate an early copy.

Reviewing the current aero-space literature, I find that unconventional interplanetary trajectory profiles may soon become conventional.

Sincerely,

Michael Minovitch