

ALL UNIVERSITY SPRING FESTIVAL

held at UCLA during the SPRING RECESS • 1963

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

I welcome you with great pleasure, as a participant to the All-University Spring Festival.

A number of stimulating activities have been planned for you during your stay at the Festival. The most important element in the success of this, and future festivals, will be the intellectual insights you can contribute through your participation. We all attach great importance to the "oneness" of the University of California, and it is our hope that this Festival will promote the unity of the various campuses of the University through the collaboration and contact among its students and faculty.

When you return to your home campus, we feel assured that you will bring with you a fuller understanding of the variety of talents represented in all nine campuses of the University. This will be the measure of the success of future convocations.

Clark Kerr

This is the first meeting of the Graduate Academy of the University of California. It is hosted jointly by the Graduate Student Association and the Graduate Division of UCLA.

The Graduate Academy will annually present selected original research by graduate students in the University. It will bring together young scholars and faculty from the different campuses and disciplines working in the same field. For balance, four major areas have been selected this year: Classics and Humanities, Space Sciences, Biological—Medical Sciences, and Urban Affairs. Papers presented at the various sessions will be reviewed by an editorial committee and will be published as "The Proceedings of the First Graduate Academy of the University of California."

The program has been arranged so that you will be able to take advantage of the major theatrical and artistic events concurrently scheduled by the All-University Student Art Festival.

Your presentation is scheduled so that it will be possible for you to attend a number of sessions in a field other than your own. We hope you have a most enjoyable stay.
